CERTIFICATION COST

The Conseil Français de la Protection Cathodique (CFPC) offers to industry a system of certification of the personnel specialized in Cathodic Protection. Like any service, the various services of the CFPC have a financial cost in order to offset the expenses of organization, management and certification follow-up.

Except for level 1S for which the training and the certification examination are not dissociated, the mentioned costs for the other examinations (levels 1 and 2) do not include the training cost. To know more about these costs, thank you to ask them directly to the Training Centers.
